During this presentation on Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD), Dr. Mundt will utilize anecdotes and case summaries of justice-involved veterans to:

- Provide participants with information about the symptoms of PTSD and how it may present in combat veterans
- Give information about assessment and diagnostic considerations
- Emphasize on understanding the typical experience of veterans deployed to the ongoing wars in Iraq and Afghanistan, linking some of the specific warzone experiences with the psychological symptoms they may produce
- Discuss the experience of "homecoming" and the challenges that veterans face when reintegrating into civilian society and how these challenges can often create a point of intersection for warzone veterans with both the criminal justice and civil legal systems
- Explain the current treatment protocols for PTSD, with an emphasis on factors that could contribute to eithersuccess or failure of treatment efforts.
